

अथ दशमोऽध्यायः ॥

ऋषिरुवाच ॥ १ ॥

निशुम्भं निहतं दृष्ट्वा भ्रातरं प्राणसम्मितम् ।
हन्यमानं बलं चैव शुम्भः क्रुद्धोऽब्रवीद्वचः ॥ २ ॥

बलाबलेपदुष्टे त्वं मा दुर्गे गर्वमावह ।
अन्यासां बलमाश्रित्य युद्धयसे यातिमानिनी ॥ ३ ॥

देव्युवाच ॥ ४ ॥

एकैवाहं जगत्यत्र द्वितीया का ममापरा ।
पश्यैता दुष्ट मय्येव विशन्त्यो मद्विभूतयः ॥ ५ ॥

1-3. The R̥ṣi said : Seeing his brother Nisumbha slain, who was dear to him as his life, and his army being slaughtered, S'umbha angrily said, 'O Durgā, who are puffed up with the pride of strength, don't show your pride (here). Though you are exceedingly haughty, you, resorting to the strength of others, fight'.

4-5. The Devi said : I am all alone in the world here. What other is there besides me? See, vile one,

ततः समस्तास्ता देव्यो ब्रह्माणीप्रमुखा लयम् ।
तस्या देव्यास्तनौ जग्मुरेकैवासीत्तदाम्बिका ॥ ६ ॥

देव्युवाच ॥ ७ ॥

अहं विभूत्या बहुभिरिह रूपैर्यदास्थिता ।
तत्संहृतं मयैकैव तिष्ठाम्याजौ स्थिरो भव ॥ ८ ॥

ऋषिरुवाच ॥ ९ ॥

ततः प्रवृत्ते युद्धं देव्याः शुम्भस्य चोभयोः ।
पश्यतां सर्वदेवानामसुराणां च दारुणम् ॥ १० ॥

these Goddesses, who are but my own powers, entering into my own self ?

6. Then all those, Brahmanī and the rest, were absorbed in the body of the Devī. Ambikā alone then remained.

7-8. The Devī said : The numerous forms which I projected by my power here—those have been withdrawn by me, and (now) I stand alone. Be steadfast in combat.

9-10. The Ṛṣi said: Then began a dreadful battle between them both, the Devī and S'umbha, while all the devas and asuras looked on.

शरवर्षैः शितैः शस्त्रैस्तथास्त्रैश्चैव दारुणैः ।
तयोर्युद्धमभूद्भूयः सर्वलोकभयङ्करम् ॥ ११ ॥

दिव्यान्यस्त्राणि शतशो मुमुचे यान्यथाम्बिका ।
बभञ्ज तानि दैत्येन्द्रस्तत्प्रतीघातकर्तृभिः ॥ १२ ॥

मुक्तानि तेन चास्त्राणि दिव्यानि परमेश्वरी ।
बभञ्ज लीलयैवोग्रहुङ्कारोच्चारणादिभिः ॥ १३ ॥

ततः शरशतैर्देवीमाच्छादयत सोऽसुरः ।
सापि तत्कुपिता देवी धनुश्चिच्छेद चेष्टुभिः ॥ १४ ॥

11. With showers of arrows, with sharp weapons and frightful missiles, both engaged again in a combat that frightened all the worlds.

12. Then the lord of daityas broke the divine missiles, which Ambikā discharged in hundreds, with (weapons) that repulsed them.

13. With fierce shout of hum and the like, the Paramesvarī playfully broke the excellent missiles that he threw.

14. Then the asura covered the Devī with hundreds of arrows, and the Devī in wrath split his bow with her arrows.

छिन्ने धनुषि दैत्येन्द्रस्तथा शक्तिमथाददे ।
चिच्छेद देवी चक्रेण तामप्यस्य करे स्थिताम् ॥ १५ ॥

ततः खड्गमुपादाय शतचन्द्रं च भानुमत् ।
अभ्यधावत्तदा देवीं दैत्यानामधिपेश्वरः ॥ १६ ॥

तस्यापतत एवाशु खड्गं चिच्छेद चण्डिका ।
धनुर्मुक्तैः शितैर्बाणैश्चर्म चार्ककरामलम् ॥ १७ ॥

हताश्वः स तदा दैत्यश्छिन्नधन्वा विसारथिः ।
जग्राह मुद्गरं घोरमम्बिकानिधनोद्यतः ॥ १८ ॥

15. And when the bow was split the lord of the daityas took up his spear. With a discus, the Devī split that (spear) also in his hand.

16. Next the supreme monarch of the daityas, taking his sword and shining shield bearing the images of a hundred moons, rushed at the Devī at that moment.

17. Just as he was rushing forward, Candikā split his sword with sharp arrows shot from her bow, as also his shield as bright as the solar rays.

18. With his steeds slain, with his bow broken, without a charioteer, the daitya then grasped his terrible mace, being ready to kill Ambikā.

चिच्छेदापततस्तस्य मुद्गरं निशितैः शरैः ।
तथापि सौऽभ्यधावत्तां मुष्टिमुद्यम्य वेगवान् ॥ १९ ॥

स मुष्टिं पातयामास हृदये दैत्यपुङ्गवः ।
देव्यास्तं चापि सा देवी तलेनोरस्यताडयत् ॥ २० ॥

तलप्रहाराभिहतो निपपात महीतले ।
स दैत्यराजः सहसा पुनरेव तथोत्थितः ॥ २१ ॥

उत्पत्य च प्रगृह्योच्चैर्देवीं गगनमास्थितः ।
तत्रापि सा निराधारा युयुधे तेन चण्डिका ॥ २२ ॥

19. With sharp arrows, she split the mace of S'umbha, who was rushing at her. Even then, raising his fist, he rushed swiftly at her.

20. The daitya-lord brought his fist down on the heart of the Devī, and the Devī also with her palm smote him on his chest.

21. The daitya-king, wounded by the blow of her palm, fell on the earth, but immediately again he rose up.

22. Seizing the Devī, he sprang up and mounted on high into the sky. There also Caṇḍikā, without any support, fought with him.

नियुद्धं खे तदा दैत्यश्चण्डिका च परस्परम् ।
 चक्रतुः प्रथमं सिद्धमुनिविस्मयकारकम् ॥ २३ ॥
 ततो नियुद्धं सुचिरं कृत्वा तेनाम्बिका सह ।
 उत्पाद्य भ्रामयामास चिक्षेप धरणीतले ॥ २४ ॥
 स क्षिप्तो धरणीं प्राप्य मुष्टिमुद्यम्य वेगतः ।
 अभ्यधावत दुष्टात्मा चण्डिकानिधनेच्छया ॥ २५ ॥
 तमायान्तं ततो देवी सर्वदैत्यजनेश्वरम् ।
 जगत्यां पातयामास भित्वा शूलेन वक्षसि ॥ २६ ॥

23. Then the daitya (S'umbha) and Caṇḍikā faught, as never before, with each other in the sky in a close contact, which wrought surprise to the Siddhas¹ and sages.

24. Ambikā then, after carrying on a close fight for a very long time with him, lifted him up, whirled him around and flung him down on the earth.

25. Flung thus, the evil-natured (S'umbha), reaching the earth and raising his fist, hastily rushed forward desiring to kill Caṇḍikā.

26. Seeing that lord of all the daitya-folk approaching, the Devī, piercing him on the chest with a dart, threw him down on the earth.

1. A class of divine beings.

स गतासुः पपातोर्व्या देवी शूलाग्रविक्षतः ।
चालयन् सकलां पृथ्वीं साब्धिद्वीपां सपर्वताम् ॥२७॥

ततः प्रसन्नमखिलं हते तस्मिन् दुरात्मनि ।
जगत्स्वास्थ्यमतीवाप निर्मलं चाभवन्नभः ॥ २८ ॥

उत्पातमेघाः सोल्का ये प्रागासंस्ते शमं ययुः ।
सरितो मार्गवाहिन्यस्तथासंस्तत्र पातिते ॥ २९ ॥

ततो देवगणाः सर्वे हर्षनिर्भरमानसाः ।
बभूवुर्निहते तस्मिन् गन्धर्वा ललितं जगुः ॥ ३० ॥

27. Battered by the pointed dart of the Devī he fell lifeless on the ground, shaking the entire earth with its seas, islands and mountains.

28. When that evil-natured (asura) was slain, the universe became happy and regained perfect peace, and the sky grew clear.

29. Flaming portent-clouds that were in evidence before, became tranquil, and the rivers kept within their courses when (S'umbha) was stricken down there.

30. When he had been slain, the minds of all the bands of devas became overfull with joy, and the Gandharvas² sang sweetly, and others sounded (their instruments).

2. Divine minstrels.

अवादयंस्तथैवान्ये ननृतुश्चाप्सरोगणाः ।

ववुः पुण्यास्तथा वाताः सुप्रभोऽभूद्दिवाकरः ॥ ३१ ॥

जज्वलुश्चाग्नयः शान्ता शान्तिदिग्जनितस्वनाः ॥ ३२ ॥

इति श्रीमार्कण्डेयपुराणे सावर्णिके मन्वन्तरे देवीमाहात्म्ये
शुम्भवधो नाम दशमोऽध्यायः ॥ १० ॥

31-32. And the bands of nymphs danced; likewise favourable winds blew; the sun became very brilliant; the sacred fires blazed peacefully and tranquil became the strange sounds that had risen in different quarters of the sky.

Here ends the tenth chapter called 'The Slaying of S'umbha' of Devī-māhātmya in Mārkaṇḍeya-purāṇa, during the period of Sāvartī, the Manu.
